Background

- 60 universities are already members of RUEPEP and 11 organizations are collaborating partners.
- The University Network of Graduate Studies and Continuing Education (RUEPEP) wants to have the maximum representation among Spanish universities. Can be full members, the Spanish public and private universities and will be represented by the Rector or delegate. Other companies, organizations or professionals interested in the field of lifelong learning can also be associated as collaborating partners.
- The RUEPEP Red (Red Universitaria of Graduate Studies and Continuing Education) is an association under the Organic Law 1/2002, which is aimed primarily at Training Managers Graduate and Continuing Education of the Spanish universities.

Focus

The main objective of RUEPEP is:

- To promote contact between Spanish universities in the specific topic of graduate studies and continuing education from the academic and management points of view.

This is intended to:

- Improve knowledge of the continuing education issues.
- Promote collaborative learning and standardize criteria for finding a common position, through the exchange of experiences and information among its members.
- Encourage both academic collaboration and management among its partners.
- Serve as a link with other national and international networks relating to graduate and continuing education, and encouraging the participation of universities in them.
